

JAGUAR made motoring history

On 30th May 1949, an entirely standard Jaguar XK120, 3½ litre, running on pump petrol, was officially timed over a flying mile at...

132.6 m.p.h.

This speed, observed and recorded by the Royal Automobile Club of Belgium, on the Jabbeke highway, gained for Jaguar four Belgian speed records and was at that time

THE FASTEST SPEED EVER RECORDED BY A PRODUCTION CAR

50th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

This year, on 30th May, 50 years to the day, Jaguar are celebrating this achievement by organising a 50th Anniversary Rally.

The recently launched Jaguar XK180, concept car, will be demonstrated together with XJ220 and XJ12 Jaguars.

The Flemish Ministry of Works and Transport have agreed to the closure of a 2.3km section of the national dual carriageway at Jabbeke to allow the re-enactment of this event. It provides a unique opportunity for 150 owners of Jaguar XK models to take part in this truly historic event.
